VARIETIES IN THIS GARDEN

- Anemone ‘Pretty Lady Susan’—Featured Rozanne® and Friends variety
 The final notes of this symphony are played by Anemone ‘Pretty Lady Susan’, a 16-inch (61-cm) tall pink bloomer that flowers late summer into early fall.
Height and spread: 16” (41cm); 24” (61cm)
Flowering time: Late summer to Fall
US hardiness zone: 5
Aftercare Info: Remove dead heads after flowering for a tidier look.
Recommended number of plants: 7—use a ring of 3 plants, 18” (46cm) apart, to the left of bench and around the small ornamental tree at left. Use one on the right side of bench.
- Lamium ‘Purple Dragon’*
 The front edging of Lamium ‘Purple Dragon’ will get the show going with its lavender/purple spring blooms along with its attractive, 6-inch-tall silvery foliage. This plant usually keeps blooming midway into summer.
Height and Spread: 4-6” (10-15cm); 12” (30cm)
Flowering time: Spring
US Hardiness Zones: 4-8
Aftercare info: If plants ever become leggy or unsightly, they can be mowed to renew fresh growth.
Recommended number of plants: Varies—use 1 plant every 6-8” (15-20cm) to fill available space.
- Christmas Fern, Polystichum acrostichoides*
 These are used to form a green colony of upright, fine-textured fronds.
Height and Spread: 12-24” (30-60cm); 12-24” (30-60cm)
Flowering time: Non-flowering evergreen perennial
US Hardiness Zones: 3-9
Aftercare info: Evergreen. Remove any winter-browned leaves in spring.
 Recommended number of plants: Varies—use 1 plant every 12” (20cm) to fill available space.
- Hydrangea serrata ‘Tuff Stuff’*—Accent shrub
 A compact, rounded mountain hydrangea that grows about 36” (91cm), blooming in early summer, offering the next color in this symphony, after ‘Purple Dragon’.

“This combination is designed to give a ‘symphony’ of blooms throughout the growing season as the different plants hand off bloom from one to the next, similar to how different orchestral sections hand off to one another in a symphony.”—George Weigel, Mid-Atlantic Region Garden Design Expert.
